Purpose of the System

SFCU uses Claromentis to facilitate company-wide communication through the consolidation of multiple applications to a single platform. This allows employees to access all company information from a central point, improving communication between stakeholders.

Claromentis provides the platform for both SFCU’s employee directory and document management systems, and is used as a space to host custom links to all the pages SFCU supports, along with links to the many different vendors they work with. With their marketing page, SFCU has been able to track promotions and create a searchable archive for finding past campaigns.
